JUAREZ AWAITS REBEL ATTACKHand-to-Hand Battle to Take Town Ordered*Americans Flee Over River to Escape Turmoil*Ammunition Sent Federals from El Paso

(Continued from First Page) proached the city in three troop trains are equipped with heavy artillery and machine guns was heard during the day.

The battle, heaviest in the vicinity of Samalayuca, occurred directly south of the city. El Paso would be directly in line of fire if the weapons used were of sufficient range.

STRICT NEUTRALITY

The American government's attitude was border line. Mexican revolutionaries in Juarez shortly before noon by Brig.-Gen. Moseley, commanding officer of Fort Bliss. He told Gen. Ramon, the Mexican commander in Chihuahua, that the policy of the United States is one of strict neutrality except in the case of protection of American lives and property.

"Sometimes Federal troops may take up a position that forces the fire of an American soldier, but a line is that it is inevitable that their shells may carry over and do unintended damage," Gen. Moseley said. Then he informed the Mexican general that the 75's will immediately be moved on the Stanton street bridge.

All Juarez is like an armed garrison. On the tops of buildings, roofs of houses and in public buildings, the military is in control under a State of martial law. The most active duty on the buildings are snipers whose duty it will be to watch closely for a surprise attack at night.

A freight car came into Juarez from El Paso carrying supplies of ammunition and rations for Mexican government soldiers. No explanation of whether this shipment was permissible under the law was given to newspaper men. The shipment was permitted to pass through the regular customs channels at the border.

REBELS SIGHTED

Three rebel trains, consisting of rebels, were sighted about thirty miles away today by Federal scouts. They returned and sounded a call for arms, and a force of 200 men left under command of Gen. Ignacio Flores.

The rebel detachment was about 10 miles from the town of Mexicali when it was sighted by men on foot and by a caravan of automobile. The marchers inspected railroad tracks as they went along, apparently looking for bombs.

A Federal train which left Juarez to locate the incoming rebel train had gone ahead of the rebels. Instead he is said to have turned traitor and to have united his forces with those under Escobar.

The statement admits that the United forces will be able to hold Torreon without difficulty until the arrival of the main Federal army.

A Federal column pushing its way from Monterrey under Gen. Alvaro Almazan has taken charge of the troops from Tampico which under Gen. Ortega recaptured Monterrey from the insurgents.

Another Federal column is pushing its way from Central Mexico under Gen. Cepillo.

Gen. Anacleto Lopez is said to have thrown up a barrier against the southward push of the rebels in the State of Zacatecas and the government plans to launch shortly a counter offensive. Escobar is said to have been absent from his command when he abandoned Torreon on his way to Monterrey.

CALLES ADROT AND RAPID

As the game of chess, Secretary Calles has been moving various Federal troops about and so adroit and rapid have been his actions that the rebels have not had time to concentrate anywhere except in the extreme northwest where the rebellion in the State of Vera Cruz appeared several days ago, he buried the bulk of his loyal troops into that region.

Meanwhile Monterrey fell, but within twenty-four hours a Federal column, led by General Escobar, a strong column of Federal troops advanced on the north of Mexico City.

The Federal forces have withdrawn for the moment.

Rather than be caught in an encircling movement of these and other Federal advancing from Piedras Negras and Matamoros, Gen. Escobar abandoned Monterrey, which he had held for only two days.

REBEL CHIEF SENDS WIRE TO AMERICAN GENERAL

NOGALLES (Son.) March 7. (P.)—Roberto Pesquera, personal representative of President Portes Gil is here to obtain permission for the transportation of Mexican Federal troops across Texas to Juarez for the relief of loyal Mexican troops opposing rebels in that section.

Perez, Mexican Finance Minister, flew to Brownsville yesterday from Mexico City.

From San Antonio Pesquera and his party will go to El Paso, presumably to see Gen. Moseley, former assistant Secretary of War, in preparing an offensive in Northern Chihuahua against the rebels.

DESTINATION OF ARMS SHIPMENT WITHHELD

WASHINGTON, March 7. (P.)—The State Department tonight refused to divulge the destination of the reported arms shipment through the El Paso customhouse into Juarez, but it is explained that such a shipment of arms is nothing unusual and is provided for under the terms of the 1924 embargo.

State Department officials say that the Mexican Federal government is able to obtain arms and ammunition from manufacturers in the United States at all times.

All that is necessary, it is stated, is that the arms manufacturer in the United States obtain State Department permission before he sends an order of war material through a United States customhouse, and the customhouse must be provided with a receipt for the party for which the arms are designated.

It is extremely probable that the 9000 rounds of ammunition reported to have been shipped into Juarez are for the use of the Mexican Federal garrison of that border city.

CAPTURED SHIP LOADED FOR MAZATLAN ATTACK

GUAYMAS (Son.) March 7. (P.)—The captured steamer Bolivar, taken Monday by the rebels at the port of Tavarros, is today being loaded with troops and supplies at the Guaymas Harbor and, according to reports, is bound to proceed south to attack the Federal garrison at Mazatlan, Sinaloa, from the sea.

FOUR THOUSAND REBELS ON MARCH TO MEXICO CITY

NAVAJOA (Son.) March 7. (P.)—Four thousand rebel troops are now at the Sonora-Sinaloa border, proceeding slowly to the south on a direct route to Mexico City, an announcement by Gen. Richardo Topete, commanding officer of the rebel forces in southern Sonora.

REVOLT BALLYHOO NEGLECTEDStarting Rebellion at Inauguration Time Not Way Villa Would Have Done It, El Paso Thinks, Recalling How Pancho Once Delayed Attack Till After World's Series

EL PASO (Tex.) March 7. (P.)—While residents of El Paso watched developments across the border in Mexico with some anxiety today, some of them perceived that the leaders of the present military activities appear to have less regard for the publicity effect in the United States than did the late and notorious bandit chieftain, Francisco (Pancho) Villa.

The fact that the present work started almost coincidentally with the inauguration of President Hoover, to which American newspapers paid little attention, was pointedly commented, inasmuch as Villa, known Villa intimately and made his way to the chieftain's camp. Villa is said to have expected to attack on a certain day in October that coincided with the opening of the world's series.

"Pancho" Walker, a newspaper man, knew Villa intimately and made his way to the chieftain's camp. Villa is said to have expected to attack on a certain day in October that coincided with the opening of the world's series.

Villa saw the point and laughed.

In his emphatic and profane vernacular he agreed it was a good idea.

He waited and some ten days later descended on the adobe village.

Villa was in 1913 that this whimsical incident occurred. Villa was postponed. It was announced yesterday. Notification will be given when and if the trip is to be rescheduled.

The scheduled trip was to have taken members for inspection of travel and sightseeing in the southern republic, including Chihuahua, City. About eighty members of the association and their wives had made reservations on the special train over the Southern Pacific lines.

NO TIA JUANA TROUBLE POSSIBLE, SAY OFFICIALS

TIA JUANA (Mex.) March 7. (P.)—A report that troops are moving on Tia Juana or that there is a movement of revolutionary troops in the Tia Juana Valley was absolutely discounted today by the Mayor of Tia Juana, Adrien Cubillas, and the Chief of Police, Manuel Montana.

They stated that no report reached them concerning the movement of revolutionaries in the Tia Juana Valley.

While the situation is viewed as peaceful as it ever was, and they know no reason why the revolutionary forces should move on to Tia Juana or Baja California.

CLASH IMMINENT IN INTERIOR OF SONORA

NOGALLES (Ariz.) March 7. (P.)—A clash between forces of 400 Federal troops under the command of Gen. Anselmo Armenta and two battalions of rebels was imminent tonight, according to advice received here from the interior. Gen. Armenta at Orizaba, military headquarters, refused to join the rebel forces and fled with his men to the Bacerete Mountains with the rebels in hot pursuit.

Advices received at rebel headquarters from Gen. J. G. Gil, commander of Chihuahua supreme command of the Mexican rebel forces, said that rebels were in control of Monterrey and that forces under Gen. Escobar were proceeding southward, encumbering little opposition from Federal forces.

Ignacio Sojo, prominent business man of Aguas Prietas, Son., was reported here as having been named a special envoy to Washington to confer with United States officials in behalf of the faction.

More than 2000 Mexican rebel troops, led by the chief of Gen. Fausto Topete and Francisco Borquez, were sprawled out in box cars in the neighboring town of Nogales, awaiting the decision of rebel commanders to their next move.

Gen. Francisco Borquez, who said that no such move is being contemplated.

The troops, fully armed and equipped, left here in several trucks and probably will be placed around the city of Nogales.

The eventful situation could not be learned, but it is almost certain that the troops are to be used in fighting revolutionary forces. No alarm has been felt at Tia Juana due to absence of the troops as Lower California is deemed safe, from any military activity, due to its geographical situation.

Americans still are permitted free passage in and out of Mexico, no passport being required, it has been learned.

CULIACAN OCCUPIED BY REVOLUTIONISTS

NOGALLES (Son.) March 7. (P.)—The city of Culiacan, Sinaloa, reported to have been occupied at 12 o'clock this afternoon by revolutionaries. The Tia Juana garrison, approximately 250 troops, had been moved from there to the Sonora border, it was learned.

Maddux Arrives by Air from Mexico City and Says Americans in No Danger

Danger to Americans marooned in the Mexican zone is virtually negligible, and within a short time the revolution will suffer a dismal collapse. This is the opinion expressed yesterday by J. L. Maddux, president of the Maddux Air Lines, on his arrival at Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, at the end of a trip from Mexico City in a plane piloted by Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, ace pilot and vice-president of the company. Accompanying Maddux and Tomlinson on the air journey were Mrs. Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bacon and Miss Virginia Sullivan, fiancee of the pilot.

"My observations have convinced me," Maddux said, "that on account of the steps taken by the Federal government to suppress the revolution, it cannot last much longer. And for the likelihood of danger to Americans down there, it is very small." He added that "our enemies were received enthusiastically by the people."

The Bolivar was about to leave for San Francisco when she was boarded by rebel leaders, who notified the master he could not sail.

The revolutionists apparently feared the government would use the ship as a transport. No passengers were on board.

Company officials here expressed hope service might be resumed shortly.

REBEL GENERAL OPENS OFFICE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 7. (P.)—The Mexican general, Mariano Montes, today opened his temporary headquarters at the Hotel Pennsylvania, where he is representing the rebel movement headed by Maj.-Gen. Jose Gonzalez Escobar. He said he got his appointment from Gen. Jesus M. Aguirre, rebel commander in Vera Cruz.

The shot sent Juarez into a small panic, and for a while it was believed the war was on.

Refugees streamed over the international bridge into El Paso until it was learned what had caused the shot.

Mexican Rebels Unjustified, Says ex-President Believe Leaders Without
Plan to Objective
Story of Interruption of Orderly Government

NEW YORK, March 7. (P)—The New York Times today prints a statement by President Alvaro Obregon, former President of Mexico and now Secretary of War under President Hoover, in which he says "No recent movement in Mexico in recent years has had real justification except that it was headed by former Presidents and Mexican rebels."

"We have been over," he said, "a period started by ambitious and ignorant military leaders who with the exception of revolutionaries, economic, and social, had the least objective of all the movements. These have rebelled under a chief ruler whose last three years of administration have paralleled us as an executive strictly bound to the law, a man of firm public and private morals."

He said that the present situation in the country is due to the continued campaign, which is now decided until next November, the election of the president, which has not yet been held, which will not be cast

until November.

The military chiefs, he said, are now headed by former Presidents and Mexican rebels,

JOHN D. JR., WINS STEWART TILTOusted Chief Cheered by Company Employees*Continental Company Deal Caused Downfall*Chairmanship Done Away With by Directors(Continued from First Page)
John D. Jr., his brother-in-law, announced. This he said, tore out the oft-repeated declaration that Mr. Rockefeller was only interested in the removal of Col. Stewart.

The forces of clerks, representing both sides, which had been working day and night, had all the proxies checked in by the time the meeting opened and the counting of ballots was done in short order.

The board of election inspectors reported that a total of 8,446,120 votes had been cast. Of these, 817,610 were represented in person and 6,628,710 by proxies.

STEWART CHEERED
When Col. Stewart completed reading of the company's annual business statement which showed net earnings for the year amounted to $1,000,000, the cheers and applause were deafening. The crowd rose to its feet, whistling and stamping their enthusiasm for the speaker as the colonel stood with flushed face.

"It would be idle for me to say that I leave the Standard Oil Company without regret," he said in a statement following his removal. "I care for its welfare has been my deepest concern. Its affairs have been very little. I have seen it grow under the present administration from no more than a corporation with 100 stockholders to practically a $1,000,000,000 corporation with 10,000 stockholders.

One can not dissociate himself from such an intimacy without a wrench.

THANKS HIS BACKERS

Col. Stewart said with no small sense of pride or gratitude that he thanked the 7001 of the 701 employees stockholders who voted for him and the 31,337 stockholders of the company who exercised proxies in his favor or voted personally for him.

The final chick showed that 15,000 gave proxies to the Rockefeller group, the big margin in favor of John D. Jr., being due to the large number of stockholders.

The fight against Stewart had been carried on throughout the nation by Mr. Aldrich and the law firm represented by Charles Evans Hughes, former Supreme Court Justice, while John D. Jr. traveled to Washington, the Holy Land.

The trouble dated back more than a year ago, when Stewart was summoned before the Senate committee investigating what happened to the records of the Standard Refining Co., the parent of the Continental Trading Ltd., part of which were proved to have been given former Secretary of the Interior Fall for his part in the granting of the Teapot Dome lease.

CALLED BY SENATE
Stewart was one of the organizers of the Continental Company, a Standard Oil corporation. His associates were James O'Neill, Harry Sinclair, and Harry M. Blackmer, then president of the Midwest Refining Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary.

W. A. Humphreys, a Texas oil man, had a quantity of oil which he was willing to sell for $1.50 a barrel. The Continental Trading company was formed, purchased the oil for $1.50 a barrel, and immediately sold it to the company represented by Stewart. Stewart, Sinclair, and O'Neill at $1.75 a barrel. Profit from this transaction was reported to have been in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

That was invested in Liberty Bond, and is supposed to have been distributed among the organizers of the company. Sinclair gave part of his bonds to former Secretary Fall. It was the establishment of this fact which led the Senate to reopen the Teapot Dome investigation to determine what became of the remainder of the bonds.

Stewart was called before the committee February 2, 1928. He said he never got any of the bonds he was given, and he did not know who did. That refusal aroused the ire of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who demanded Stewart's resignation.

INDICTED FOR CONTEMPT

Stewart was indicted in Washington for contempt April 21. He was later acquitted. He admitted, however, that he had received $3,000 worth of the Continental Trading, Inc., company bonds, which he kept in trust for his company in a safe in his office. He was then indicted by a District of Columbia grand jury for perjury, but was acquitted on this charge also.

Following Stewart's acquittal, Rockefeller again demanded his resignation and when it was refused, carried the fight to the stockholders. He said he demanded his resignation, because Stewart's connection with the Continental Trading company had, in his opinion, made him "morally unfit" to continue as chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

The fight was the first of its kind in industrial history in which the fight for control of a $1,000,000,000 corporation was based on the moral fitness of its chief executive.

President Hoover, after being chosen chief executive officer by the new board, explained that the situation had been extremely difficult.

"Neither the dispute that has just developed nor the fight for control permitted to stand in the way of the future development of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana," he said. "The interests of too many people are involved for that."

STEWART WON'T GO BEGGING

Colonel Entitled to Retire on Mere Pittance of $75,000 a Year

CHICAGO, March 7. (P)—Robert W. Stewart, ousted from his seat at the directors' table of the Standard Oil of Indiana, still can draw an emoluments from the company equivalent to the salary of the President of the United States.

As an employee of twenty-two years' standing Col. Stewart is entitled to retire on a pension based on 70 per cent of his average salary over the last ten years on condition that he does not enter the employ of a competing oil company. His possible pension was estimated today at approximately $75,000 a year.

attended the annual meeting yesterday to hold it in the Whiting Community Center Auditorium, which seats 500, instead of the company's administration offices. The officers accommodated themselves from the fifth person but herefore had served its hope in the place.

The stockholders' meeting, preceding the balloting, developed heated debate from representatives of widely separated groups of the company. The first of the fireworks started when J. P. Hayes of Chicago made a motion to elect two directors who were not employees of the company, one having 500 or more shares and the other less than 500.

ADmits DEFEAT

Col. Stewart, at this juncture made his first admission of defeat, but even William Childs, himself, confounder and chairman of the company, placed little hope in it.

The faction opposed to the Childs family, headed by William Barber, filed proxies which they claimed gave them 260 votes of the company's 411,000 shares of voting stock, and for the purposes of the meeting the Childs faction conceded them a majority, subject to challenge when the official count should be completed.

NEW DIRECTORS
The Barber proxies could be cut down to 205,000, or less than a majority, then no quorum would have been present, and all the day's actions would be void. But only the younger members of the Childs faction expressed even slight confidence of reinstatement by such means.

Looking at the Rockefeller faction, which had been opposing the motion because it had not been submitted to the stockholders prior to the meeting, he said:

"The vote seems to have it," emphasizing the word "seem."

Cries of "Standing vote, standing vote," came from the floor but the colonel shook his head rather sternly.

She declared that she was a member of the church, and was a staunch church worker, and had come to the meeting to help see justice done.

She named a list of her friends and friends of her husband who for one reason or another had been unable to attend. She did not agree with the emphatic opinions of several other stockholders, who leaped to their feet saying that, if anyone was not at the meeting or represented it was their own fault. She urged a vote, with cries of "Vote, vote."

With this bit of business out of the way the meeting again bordered on confusion with a motion of R. W. Kellogg of Tulsa, Okla., who suggested that the Rockefeller proxies be excluded.

ELIHU ROOT MISSION

The mission of Elihu Root overseas to seek acceptance of the American reservations to the World Court by the other nations, members of that tribunal, was discussed with Mr. Hoover by Senators Swanson of Virginia and Walsh of Montana, and Senator George F. Hoar of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Both are ardent supporters of American adherence to the Court protocol and they approved the efforts now being made to bring about American participation in the Court's deliberations. They also expressed satisfaction with the President's pronouncement on this subject in his inaugural address.

It was stated today that the President will make no appearance in the various departments and independent agencies of the government before next week. A number of assistant secretaries and other officials have tendered their resignations and their successors must be named. Many recommendations already have been received.

PROCLAMATION TEXT

The text of the proclamation calling the new Congress into session follows:

"Be it the President of the United States of America, a proclamation:

"Whereas public interests require that the Congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon on the day of April 1928, to receive such communication as may be made by the Executive:

"And whereas legislation to effect further agricultural relief and legislation for limited changes of the tariff cannot be justice to our farmers or labor, or to our manufacturers

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the Congress of the United States to be convened in extra session at the Capitol in the city of Washington on the 18th day of April, 1928, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice."

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

Nine Millionaires Named as Directors

Founder of Restaurant String Bitter

Says Opposition Only Wants Real Estate

NEW YORK, March 7. (P)—Nine millionaires were elected today to direct the destinies of the Childs restaurants, six members of the Childs family being removed to make way for them.

At the company's annual meeting the long-drawn battle over menu and management policies reached its climax in a skirmish of proxies that resulted in severing all connections between the 115 restaurants of the Childs system and the persons whose name that system bears.

There was one chance that today's actions might be nullified, but even William Childs, himself, confounder and chairman of the company, placed little hope in it.

The faction opposed to the Childs family, headed by William Barber, filed proxies which they claimed gave them 260 votes of the company's 411,000 shares of voting stock, and for the purposes of the meeting the Childs faction conceded them a majority, subject to challenge when the official count should be completed.

NEW DIRECTORS

If the Barber proxies could be cut down to 205,000, or less than a majority, then no quorum would have been present, and all the day's actions would be void. But only the younger members of the Childs faction expressed even slight confidence of reinstatement by such means.

The directors disposed today were William Childs, his wife, his two brothers and his two nephews. The new board elected consists of Barber, Holliday D. Meeds, Jr., of the New York banking house of Laird, Blissell and Meeds; Clement R. Ford of the Boston and New York banking houses of Trust; Andrew G. Co. LeRoy W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust Company; G. Willard Smith, a former Childs president recently deposed by William Childs; Augustus Nalle, manager of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel; Robert O. Williams; Richard M. Allerton and Cecil F. Gordon.

It was announced that Smith will resume the presidency and it was intimated that the post of chairman last year, will be abolished.

In his valedictory address, made before the new board was nominated, but after the opposition's majority had been conceded, William Childs washed his hands of the business he founded with his brothers forty years ago.

CHILD'S VALENTORY

"This company," he said in a closing words to the child in my efforts. "When you take this child away, I will, but I shall never come back." I wonder what will happen to this child that is street wants. I want nothing to do with a board that will come out of a deal like this. I am surprised we are turned out, but might makes right and nothing is so strong as money.

The Barber group sought to oust Childs and his family on the double ground that their management was wasteful and that Childs himself suffered from a vegetarian obsession which caused him to foster a number of waterless menus that spoiled trade.

Childs denied the charges of wastefulness and compulsory vegetarianism and counter-charged that the stock price from which he had bought down after selling his own holdings in the company sought to get hold of the company's real estate, caring nothing for the proper management of the company. He established a break-off of more than $1,000,000 in 1928 earnings to "adverse circumstances" rather than mismanagement.

New Jersey and Connecticut led in engine production with Michigan and New York California following in the order.

Production in 1928 is contrasted

in the Chamber of Commerce statement with that in 1921, the industry's slumber years. In 1921, airplane production fell to 302. In 1927 there were 1565 commercial planes built.

The chamber expresses the opinion

The reason for this is the extreme

THE PRIVATE LIFE of the PRINCE of WALES

(AS TOLD BY AN INTIMATE)
BY MARSHON

Copyright, 1929, by North American News Service

BERKELEY, March 7. (AP)—

It is a happy feature in the life of the Prince of Wales that he always has been on friendly terms with his relatives.

No serious dispute has ever divided him from any of them. The reason mainly is that the Prince has never made the least attempt to exercise that authority over his relatives which the heir to the throne is supposed to have.

The principle on which he has acted has been "You do your way and I shall do mine."

With his sister, the Princess Mary, the Duke of York (Bertie) at this time viewed life differently from his eldest brother. He took and always has taken himself and his position more seriously than the Prince has done.

At this particular time there was no room for the Duke of York to keep a dual bachelor establishment at York House. But over the matter of the night clubs the Duke and the Prince had such a disagreement the plan for their living together was dropped, and never re-visited.

CONVERTS HIM

However, after the Duke of York had become engaged the Prince took him and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon and the Empress Alexandra on the most affectionate terms. But he did not welcome Lord Lascelles too warmly as a brother-in-law.

It is an open secret that the Prince hoped his sister might have married a much younger than Lord Lascelles, and one with a temperament and disposition more like the Prince's.

UNDUE DISPLAY

It is said the Prince also believed that the Duke of York was displaying pride in the fact that he was the Prince's brother.

And that this around in the Prince's dislike for Lord Lascelles which he took little trouble to conceal. In one little tiff the Prince was said to have been put out with Lord Lascelles his brother-in-law.

"It you thought as much of your family as I do you would drop your night-club ways and a lot of your women friends, marry some girl of royal rank and settle down."

And the Prince is reported to have replied:

"Well, I may know some people not at the top of the tree, but I am an almighty swell of a brother-in-law, anyway."

The Prince does not see much of his brother-in-law. He has been only once or twice to Goldsbrough Hall and rarely goes near Cheshirefield House. But he sees as much of his sister as he can, either at Buckingham Palace or at the homes of mutual friends.

QUARRELS WITH DUKE

With his brother, the Duke of York, the Prince is on very good terms but once had a quarrel with the Duke, regarded as the most serious one he has ever had with a relative.

This happened shortly after the Prince had set up his establishment at York House. Bertie was then summoned to visit his club and cafe Queen Mary was dressed, believing this derogatory to the dignity of the position the Prince occupied. She had several conversations with him, but not to much purpose.

The Prince saw things differently. After all, he had been through the war and had seen things his mother could scarcely dream of. The Prince had no serious difference with his brother.

Then the Queen thought it would be a good plan to get the Duke of York to talk to the Prince.

The type of girl the Prince likes would be difficult to define. He probably couldn't define it himself. (Next—The Prince as a Landlord.)

Frozen Body of Man Discovered Standing Erect

TORONTO, March 7. (AP)—Indian trappers returning from the headwaters of the Attawapiskat River in Northern Ontario told of finding the frozen body of a white man standing bolt upright on snowshoes.

The Indians said the body stood with one foot slightly advanced as if about to take a step. It had been frozen solid and the snowshoes were firmly imbedded in the ice.

There was nothing on the clothing or among the effects in a prospector's pack to identify the body, the Indians said. The body cannot be recovered until summer.

TOWN MOURNING LOSS OF TOPER

Flags Fly at Half-Staff as Death Ends Career of Chronic Drinker

NEW YORK (N. Y.) March 7. (AP)—Flags on public buildings here were at half-staff today as residents mourned the passing of Michael Whalen, the town top, who spent twenty-seven of his fifty-four years in jail.

Whalen, at one time a prosperous contractor, was regarded with affection by the community despite a weakness for liquor which once a year for twenty-seven consecutive years brought him a year jail sentence.

"Taken ill several days ago,

his only request was that he be allowed to die in the jail

which he called "home." But in this he was disappointed, as he died yesterday at a hospital.

As a counter-proposal to Arizona's plan for water division, California offers to agree to the following division of water:

• 1,500,000 acre feet annually

to be apportioned to the lower basin by Paragraph A of Article III of the Colorado River compact. California proposes to take 4,600,000 acre feet and Nevada 2,800,000 acre feet.

State PROPOSAL

Under the California plan, the 1,000,000 acre feet covered by Paragraph B of Article III will be apportioned to the upper basin by the three States and the right thereby will be governed by the law of prior appropriation.

Mexican Boundary Cities Active as Rebellion Flares in Three States

A General Exodus of Americans From Mexico and a More Stringent Inspection by Mexican Authorities of Everything That Crosses the Line are taking place as a result of the rebellion which is flaming in three Mexican States. These photos, taken Wednesday at Mexicali, illustrate both phases of the situation, the one at left showing American cars passing across the international boundary into Calexico, and the one at right showing Federal customs official carefully inspecting an apparently innocent load of groceries for firearms. Similar conditions exist at Tia Juana and Juarez. (Times photo.)

HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1283 The Story of the World War 53—The Naval Attack on the Dardanelles

While the deadlock of trench fighting continued on the Western Front, the Allies early in 1915 planned to break through the Dardanelles, seize Constantinople and secure a line of communication by sea with Russia.

A fleet of British and French warships sailed for the Aegean Sea and on February 19, 1915, began bombarding the Turkish fortifications at the mouth of the Dardanelles. The fire of the battleships soon destroyed or silenced the shore batteries.

BUT A SECOND LINE OF FORTS WITHSTOOD THE SHELLING, AND FOR DAYS A GRIM DUEL WENT ON BETWEEN THE SHIPS AND THE SHORE. FIELDS OF MINES BLOCKED THE ADVANCE OF THE FLEET INTO THE NARROW STRAIT EXTREMELY HAZARDOUS. HOSTILE SUBMARINES CONSTANTLY MENACED THE FLEET.

THE GREAT NAVAL ATTACK ended in an ASTROUS REPULSE ON MARCH 18, 1915. THE BRITISH BATTLESHIPS "IRIS" AND "OCEAN" AND THE FRENCH BATTLESHIP "LA MULATIERE" WERE SENT TO THE BOTTOM BY THE TORPEDOS. TOMORROW—THE FIGHTING RESUMES.

NEILL WILL WED ACTRESS
Carroll Writes He'll Marry
Carroll Monterey
Wait Divorce, However,
from Second Wife
in France After Trip in Orient Incognito

YORK, March 7. (Osculati)—Eugene O'Neill, American artist disclosed in a letter to a friend in this city yesterday that he will marry Carolla Monterey, the actress, as soon as his present wife, Mrs. Agnes Burton, has granted him a divorce. They have been separated for more than a year. It is known that Mrs. O'Neill, who married Eugene Burton before her marriage to O'Neill in 1912, would be the bride if the divorce was granted. She was engaged to Harry Weinberg, son of O'Neill's former manager, since February, where she met him. Monterey, however, has recently returned to France after traveling through the Orient. In traveling she maintained the utmost secrecy.

TRIP BENEFICIAL
John and I are going to be soon as my wife did." O'Neill writes in a letter to a friend. "I'm just beginning to realize that the journey did give me a new life. I've got new impressions of all things against me, one after another. I was too confined to come out, but it's only now that I am learning their unique values much clearer. The reporters got on my trail to catch me up as a fake masquerade, but I've got work again," continues O'Neill. "One reason I came back so soon is I had a strong desire to write again. I'd never write a line east of here and I felt a longing to get on the train."

DIVORCE SUIT SOON
Friends of Mrs. O'Neill it is learned yesterday that the long-drawn-out divorce proceedings will do so as soon as certain legal steps have been arranged with husband. The O'Neill have two sons, Otto and Shane. O'Neill's marriage was to Ruth Jenkins, whom he divorced in 1912. Ruth Jenkins is a native of California of Danish father and mother. She studied acting and made her first stage appearance in London 10 years ago. Her first New York appearance was in support of Lou Tellegen in "Daring Chances" and among roles she performed here as one of the leading women in "The Human Age" some 10 years ago. She played Brown Play and later moved up town to the Shubert Theater.

OFFICIALS FACE LOSS OF POSTSCorporation Department Shake-up, Expected*Friedlander Scheduled to Resign Soon*Secretary to Governor Boomed for Job

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (Exclusive)—A general reorganization of the State Corporation Department, with division heads being lopped off right and left, is scheduled when Corporation Commissioner Friedlander leaves the office, it was reported here today. Commissioner Friedlander is expected to sever his connection with the State government within a short while. His successor has not been chosen as yet, it is understood.

Among those who will be eliminated, it was reported, are Assistant Commissioner Welch, in charge of the Los Angeles office, and Assistant Commissioner Nichols at Sacramento.

Both of these officials have long experience in office. They were a part of the office during the Richardson regime and when he took over the department two years ago Commissioner Friedlander retained and promoted them.

In some quarters it is stated that the reorganization which is planned is a companion movement to the effort to change the Corporate Securities Act. The California act, which has been regarded as a model, was attacked and an attempt was

He came upon a group of boys making whoopee around a keg but when the youthful merrymakers fled into the darkness without being recognized by the prosecutor.

Ross placed the jug in the back of his car and proceeded to a near-by dance hall where he hoped to "spot" the young law violators. While he was inside making his investigation, some one stole the jug from his car.

A legislative committee headed by Assemblyman Keaton of Long Beach conducted several hearings during the recess. The net result will be that the California Bell interests plan to run a pipe line to the western coast of the city to prevent the encroachment of a cement plant in the Santa Monica Mountains.

TIDELAND BILL EYED ASKANCEMeasure May Become Part of Cement Plant Battle*Passage Would Eliminate State as Factor*Pipe Line Then Would be Up to City CouncilBY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (Exclusive)—An apparently innocent bill introduced by Assemblyman Stoen of Los Angeles, which proposes that the State turn over to Los Angeles city certain tidelands within the municipal boundaries suddenly became the object of suspicion today when it appeared that the measure might become part of the plan of the Bell interests of the western coast of the city to prevent the encroachment of a cement plant in the Santa Monica Mountains.

The bill proposes that the State relinquish to the city control over the tidelands within the city limits for five years.

It includes the Hyperion, Venice and west coast addition water fronts. It is in the latter addition, north of Santa Monica Canyon, where the Alphonso Bell interests plan to run a pipe line to the western coast of the city to prevent the encroachment of a cement plant in the Santa Monica Mountains.

To further complicate matters for the cement-plant people, before they can operate their grinders in the mountains they must obtain a change in zoning from the City Council, now in order to enclose the plant and the scheme in operation three different authorities must be approached. It is pointed out that if the State releases control of the tidelands and the Council assumes jurisdiction, the Bell interests will be able to concentrate on the Council.

COUNCIL BACKS BILL

Mr. Stockwell, who introduced the bill on behalf of the Bell interests, said that "now is the time to express our opinion in the light of recent developments." A resolution supporting the measure as first planned was his answer. There is nothing unusual in the bill as it is customary, every few years, to put aside measures to amend through the Legislature assuming jurisdiction of the tidelands recently annexed.

The bill is now before the Assembly Commerce and Navigation Committee, with a hearing scheduled for next Wednesday morning.

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (Exclusive)—Real estate legislation is commanding the attention of the Legislature at present, with the major real estate bill ready for adoption by the Senate and an important conference set for Monday.

POINTS VITAL

The bill is complicated mainly by clarifying and amending sections but has several important points: According to Senator Mueller, it broadens the definition of real estate brokers and salesmen to permit them to do more business; requires five years experience in California as qualification for appointment as real estate commissioner; provides that the real estate fund may retain $50,000 at the end of each fiscal year for advertising all but $1000 to the State Treasury; extends the examination to salesmen as well as brokers; adds a number of principles to the examination of the salesmen's license; fee $5; restricts the liability of the activities of salesmen and brokers; makes false advertising or circulars over a period of three years past subject to revocation of license.

Inasmuch as no opposition has been voiced to the measure as it is expected to be on Gov. Young's desk for signature within a few weeks.

HEARING SET

A public hearing has been set for the 25th inst. on Assembly Bill No. 964 by Mr. Feeley of Oakland, which would require brokers to pay a commission of 3 per cent on each loan. There has been much opposition to this bill. Mr. Feeley said today that the purpose of the bill, which is termed the "loan brokers' act," is to curb usurious money lenders and only included real estate brokers because of a fear that if the measure would not be sound if it contained discrimination.

The real estate angle will be amended out of the bill, Mr. Feeley said.

On Monday at the Hotel Sherman, the State-wide planning, zoning and subdividing interests of the California Real Estate Association will meet in conference to discuss pending legislation.

The bills to come up, all by Senator Mueller of Los Angeles, are bills Nos. 613, 614 and 615. The first is termed the zoning bill, the second the map-plotting bill and the last the master plan bill.

PASADENA, March 7.—While speeding on his motorcycle to investigate a fire alarm here late tonight, Ralph Burris, 29-year-old motorcycle officer of the Pasadena police force, crashed into a large sedan and received serious injuries.

The officer was rushed to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where a superficial examination showed that he had suffered concussion of the brain, serious lacerations, pavement burns and a possible fractured hip. He later was taken to the Pasadena Hospital.

Burris, struck a sedan reportedly driven by Richard P. Pleger of 1858 South Euclid avenue at the intersection of Colorado street and Catalina avenue. Pleger was arrested following the accident on a charge of failure to observe a police sign.

Paint Plant in Chicago Burns

CHICAGO, March 7. (Exclusive)

A fire of undetermined origin attacked the Sherwin Williams Paint Company plant along the banks of the Calumet River tonight. More than 200 firemen were rushed to the scene to combat the blaze which had gained a strong foothold before the first alarm was turned in.

Though no definite estimate could be made at midnight, it was said the damage probably would reach $75,000.

Drawn by the huge flames which shot skyward and were visible for miles around, a large crowd of spectators gathered to watch the battle against the flames.

From nearby the burning building looked like a blazing inferno. Fortunately there was little wind.

MITCHELL LIFTS DRY-LAW GAGENew Attorney-General Will Assure Enforcement*Important Conference Has Been Set for Monday*Many Vital Points Covered by New Legislation

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—A slender, smiling, dapper man with a youthful face, who would rather shoot wild life with a motion-picture camera than a rifle, emphasized today that the national prohibition law will continue.

"President Hoover's inaugural address should be platform enough for the Department of Justice," William D. Mitchell, the new Attorney-

General said. Then he smiled over the problems of the first twenty-four hours in office and added: "I have not had time to work out any questions for handling the prohibition question."

PREFERS WILDS

The bill is complicated mainly by clarifying and amending sections but has several important points:

According to Senator Mueller, it broadens the definition of real estate brokers and salesmen to permit them to do more business;

requires them to pay a commission of 3 per cent on each loan;

provides that the real estate fund may retain $50,000 at the end of each fiscal year for advertising or circulars over a period of three years past subject to revocation of license.

Inasmuch as no opposition has been voiced to the measure as it is expected to be on Gov. Young's desk for signature within a few weeks.

WORK AHEAD

"I think we have interesting work cut out for us," he said. "I have faith that we can improve conditions. I will have to work out the problem to see whether we will need more funds and if the problem means an increase in work or personnel. I will have to ask for more funds to work on the work of the department."

Hoover, who is in charge of the prohibition bureau, is placed under the supervision of the Department of Justice. It will mean an immense increase in the work of the department. The prospects of this, however, did not seem to worry the new Attorney-General in the least.

"HEAD and shoulders above any other community in the country," says one of America's leading city planning experts. • A deserved tribute! Palos Verdes homesites—not just "frontages"—are an impressive lesson in Added Values. • Every one of them is easily worthy of itself more than its today purchase price. The superb seaview location, and the fine character of surrounding homes are guarantees of value. Besides this, you have 800 acres of parkland recreation areas, golf course, country club, playgrounds, beaches, and miles of bridle trails—all yours by right of community ownership, part of your homesite! • These are Added Values—and you will find them nowhere else. • In all the world no location surpasses Palos

Verdes in its command of ocean, city and mountain views. No homesites are so safeguarded by protective zoning and architectural supervision — or so enlarged and enhanced by parks and recreation areas. Palos Verdes homesites — so vastly more than "frontage" — cost no more — often less — than the front foot price of other developments having far less desirability. Make your own comparison. Whether you consider location, price, desirability, or restrictions — a homesite in Palos Verdes — because of these Added Values — is outstanding as an investment. It's a pleasant 45-minute drive from downtown Los Angeles to the Estates — our representatives will gladly show you over the property and point out homesites still available for purchase.

FOUR HURT AS GIRDERS CRASH

Tons of Steel Fall at New School Building

Triple Investigation Started at San Diego

Students Assist at Work of Rescue

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—While a triple investigation was under way, four men who were injured in the collapse of six steel trusses weighing more than twenty-four tons in the new Senior High School gymnasium yesterday afternoon were reported recovering today.

Fred Jarboe, superintendent of the construction company which is building the structure, said an investigation which he is conducting may lead to a conclusion by tomorrow as to the probable cause of the accident. In addition to the construction company's investigation, school authorities and the City Building Department were attempting to determine the cause of the accident.

The injured are George L. McKinon, 45 years of age, 2311 Fourth street, a carpenter, fractured collar bone, lacerations and shock; Harry Young, 44, Old Town, a carpenter, broken collar bone, lacerations and shock; Alexander L. Wright, 41, 2606 L street, cut of the left leg; and Carl Jarboe, 27, 7118 Girard street, Le Jolia, job foreman, bruises and shock.

Officials of the construction company announced that the collapse occurred while the seventh steel truss was being raised into place. From some undetermined cause the other six girders which had been hoisted into place but which had not been joined together to the seventh. Heavy timber and framework of every description were crushed under the falling steel frame.

The actual crash caused a terrible roar to sweep over the high school campus, and many hundreds of students rushed to the gymnasium where work of clearing the wreckage and caring for the wounded had already begun.

When the first police ambulance arrived, physicians called for an stretcher, but when it arrived it was too narrow. Following the administering of first aid to the injured, the police ambulance rushed them away to the hospital.

L. D. Martin, inspector on the job for the school board, declared he had no objection to the proposed "oversized" design.

Opposed the crash, Frank P. Alsen, Jr., architect who designed the building, denied this as being the cause, and said the lack of sufficient bracing was partly responsible for the accident.

Of eighteen men working on the structure when the accident took place, twelve were so close to falling timbers and girders that their escape from injury was described as miraculous, police said.

Thieves Invade Hotel Garage

RIVERSIDE, March 7.—Despite efforts of Sheriff's deputies and District Attorneys' detectives to keep the master secret, it became known here today that the key burglar on Sunday night last broke into the garage of the palatial El Mirador Hotel at Palm Springs and made away with loot reported valued at more than $3000.

Investigators were sent from Riverside, but refused to make any statement as to what they uncovered. However, it was learned that fingerprints have been taken which are expected to lead to arrests. It is known that checks in excess of $2000 and more, totaling more than $1000 disappeared.

The officers are said to be of the opinion that the thieves were thoroughly familiar with the interior of the garage.

SEARCH FOR ARMY FLYER

No Trace Found of Companion of Officer Killed When Plane Crashed Near Mexican Border

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—Search was being made today for Private Melvin A. Ulm of Rockwell Field, believed to have been killed late yesterday when a Rockwell Field army plane in which Ulm and Lieut. NEW HOTEL PLANNED AT ARROWHEAD

Expansion Program is Announced Involving Expenditure of $1,500,000

SAN BERNARDINO, March 7.—Construction of a $1,500,000 expansion project at the Arrowhead Springs Hotel will begin next week, it was announced today by Charles G. Anthony, managing director of the hotel and vice-president of the Arrowhead Corporation.

The program which includes the erection of a 150-room hotel building, twenty-five bungalows and a bath-house will be financed by the proceeds of the merger of the hotel and theater division of the Arrowhead Corporation with two other water corporations, announced earlier in the week.

The new hotel will be erected in a site east of the present structure, will cost $200,000, the theater division $16,000 each and a steam bath-house at Penngul Hot Springs in the canyon west of the hotel buildings, approximately $61,000 more. Mr. Anthony announced.

From some undetermined cause the present automobile bridge crosses the canyon will be transformed into semitropical gardens in which tropical and semitropical plants and flowers will grow.

Today's search for Ulm was conducted by beach parties and boats, covering the coast and near where the plane crashed, according to Rockwell Field report.

The crash occurred after the two had taken off from Rockwell Field in an army plane at 1 p.m., although the exact time of the occurrence of the mishap has not been determined. At 4 p.m. they were reported missing and search was started. The plane was found about fifty yards offshore, near the Mexican border.

A board of investigation was appointed today at Rockwell Field to determine the cause of the mishap.

Ulm, 25 years of age, formerly lived at Stockton, where his father, William Ulm, died.

He was born at Charlotte, Mich. At Rockwell Field he was attached to the Seventh Bombardment Squadron.

Lieut. Smith's body has been taken to the Bonneville Bridge, where it will be sent to Salt Lake City, Utah, for interment, he having formerly lived in that city. He is survived by his parents, H. W. Smith and wife of Salt Lake City.

Smith, 26, of Penngul, last November 3 from Kelly Field, Texas, where he had completed a training course.

Today's search for Ulm was conducted by beach parties and boats, covering the coast and near where the plane crashed, according to Rockwell Field report.

The program which includes the erection of a 150-room hotel building, twenty-five bungalows and a bath-house will be financed by the proceeds of the merger of the hotel and theater division of the Arrowhead Corporation with two other water corporations, announced earlier in the week.

The new hotel will be erected in a site east of the present structure, will cost $200,000, the theater division $16,000 each and a steam bath-house at Penngul Hot Springs in the canyon west of the hotel buildings, approximately $61,000 more. Mr. Anthony announced.

From some undetermined cause the present automobile bridge crosses the canyon will be transformed into semitropical gardens in which tropical and semitropical plants and flowers will grow.

Today's search for Ulm was conducted by beach parties and boats, covering the coast and near where the plane crashed, according to Rockwell Field report.

The crash occurred after the two had taken off from Rockwell Field in an army plane at 1 p.m., although the exact time of the occurrence of the mishap has not been determined. At 4 p.m. they were reported missing and search was started. The plane was found about fifty yards offshore, near the Mexican border.

A board of investigation was appointed today at Rockwell Field to determine the cause of the mishap.

VENTURA. March 7.—For the first time in three years a murder case, the Ventura grand jury sat behind closed doors today while a continual series of witnesses were questioned bit by bit to the story while Alvin Karpis, gangster, and Clark, an old-timer, came to the murder of George L. Emory, 62, and his son, Jack Brady, Los Angeles, star found slain near Camarillo.

A stack of mysterious notes have been issued, indicating many more questions are likely to be before the trial date. The division comes to a decision in the indictments were expected in a few days.

Some of the principal witnesses have yet to be questioned, and the grand jury sat in silence upon which Carl G. Gandy, attorney of the criminal investigation department of the Ventura office, has been working in full galore remains to be presented. The trial will be held April 10.

NEW YORK. March 7.—Trading on the stock exchange was restricted today by preparations for the forthcoming settlement. Price movements were limited to the whole. The industrial group was easier, especially talking-machine issues. The textile division had a harder tone and rubbers were steady. Durables issued in supply and match and electrical issues were lower, except General Electric. The oil and mining division was easier. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted 23 5-8.

The gilt-edge division was under pressure. Foreign issues were dull. Home rails recovered most of the dividends that they sold off this morning. Argentine rails were well maintained.

New Bench Warrant Issued for Callie Grimes in Jacobson Case

QUEST PUSHED FOR WITNESS

Sheriff's Search Extended Over Coast States

Accused Group Scheduled to Appear Today

Battle Against Indictments Planned by Defense

A new bench warrant bearing $10,000 bail was issued in Superior Court yesterday for Callie Grimes, State's witness in the conspiracy case against five police officers and others charging a "frame-up" to Alfred Councilman Jacobson in a Beale Street morals raid eighteen months ago.

Mrs. Grimes has been missing since February 10, last, prior to the return of indictments by the grand jury. She is being sought in a coastwise search, according to a report filed in the State's office by Deputy Sheriff J. H. Kelly and Charles Kelley, who have mailed photographs of her and her 16-year-old daughter, Virginia, to immigration authorities at Seattle and to points of air-mail delivery on the Pacific.

While the search for Mrs. Grimes is progressing, the defendants in the indictments will appear today at 2 p.m. before Superior Judge Shaw for further motions to set aside the trial bills. Attorneys were heard on the original bills, the motions denied and the District Attorney permitted to amend the charges.

THOSE INVOLVED

Those scheduled to appear in court are Captains of Detectives Willis and Williams; Detective Cox, former Detective Lieutenant Lucas, former Police Investigator Raymond, Charles Crawford, Hollywood, and his wife, and with him Alfred Marion, asserted vice boss under conviction.

Attorney Gelder, counsel for Crawford, has notified the District Attorney's office that he proposes to attack the indictments on the ground that the court allowed the amendments without resubmitting the true bills to a grand jury.

In preparation for the forthcoming trial date, Alfred Cooper, the defense attorney, announced last night that he has taken a deposition for Jacobson. The Councilman also has given a similar statement to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennisson and Bush.

JACOBSON TESTIMONY

Release of the grand jury transcript of the Jacobson case involved before the State's attorney revealed that Jacobson for the first time under oath testified directly to the asserted "frame-up," and declared that he was struck about the head in the darkness during the assault in Mrs. Grimes' cottage. Mrs. Grimes became a central

Flyer Wagers $5 on Ability to Make Parachute Jump and Almost Loses

Fred J. Byrnes won his $5 bet but he didn't do it again, even for a sure win, he said.

A student aviator, he bet $5 he could make a successful parachute jump.

Lieut. Arthur Thomas took him up 3200 feet. Byrnes clambered to the wing, smiling at the easy $5 awaiting him below. Suddenly the plane sideslipped. Byrnes unexpectedly shot into the air. He dropped 1200 feet before he could pull the ring.

Marco failed to keep the asserted contract, she testified, and she was forced to sell her story for a livelihood.

Spirits Figure in Money Suit

Charges that Anne E. and R. R. Griffiths induced her to spend about $4000 on them by representing that they were in touch with spirits are contained in a suit filed yesterday in Superior Court by Mrs. Nettie R. Beckwith of Pasadena.

According to the complaint, the Griffiths induced Mrs. Beckwith to live at the home of Mrs. Beckwith last November and told her they were in touch with the spirit of her deceased father. Mrs. Beckwith asserts they thus induced her to buy them automobiles, a fur coat and furniture, and to pay their grocery bills and give them a bank account of $1000.

The complaint requests an accounting of the defendants, who are said to be residents of Santa Monica.

PRINCE RAMA DOES FADE-OUT

DISCOURSE INTERRUPTED

In previous declarations the prince asserted his title of Sudhu of Indis was higher than all swamis, yogis and other titles in vogue among East Indian seafarers. He asserted his mission was to bring learning to the western country and that he had studied in India sixteen years.

He was free with his criticism of other so-called teachers of Indian mysticism and asserted he had attended universities in China, Japan, India and other far-away places. He turned suddenly into a discourse on his studies and kindred and travel and was going nicely when a reporter demanded:

"Now listen, prince, tell us your actual experiences aboard the Dollar steamship when you were with the crew and deck hand in charge of cleaning bilge water from the hold."

Demand Low Down

"Who told you that?" demanded the prince. "Why, the same man who told us that you live at the Mark Twain Hotel in Hollywood in February, and that you went up to San Francisco and planned to return to Los Angeles with a lot of pomp," was the reply. "Now give us the low down about you recently being a roustabout on a steamship running between Boston and New York."

"Gentlemen," said the prince with dignity, "I have an appointment."

The appointment, the reporters learned, was with the hotel porter who received immediate orders to check out the prince's baggage for undetermined parts.

I am going to start over right and follow the straight and narrow way to obtain an education and I will write and let you know where I am at as soon as I get settled."

FURTHER REQUESTS

"Take my lot and sell it. With the money please square my name with J. M. Noble, 1801 Figueroa street. Turn in my books. Turn in my uniform. If anything is lost pay for it. Dad, fix the truck and buy some new tires out of what is left. Ask Mrs. Bridge to forgive me. That I am going to take her advice and go straight."

Henderson Asks Absence Leave

Clifford W. Henderson, director of airports, asked Council yesterday for a six months' leave of absence, effective the 15th inst., in order to enable him to accept an offer to be a director of the National Air Races and Aeromarine Exchange, which will be held in Cleveland next August. His request was referred to the Finance Committee.

In his communication Mr. Henderson pointed out that in due course the air races competition he would be associated with the leaders of the commercial aircraft industry and such association "would mean broader contacts for the Los Angeles department of airports." He also asserted the reason that while he is in Cleveland he will keep in constant touch with his department because of his interest in seeing the municipal airport program progress.

CITY HALL SITE BIDS REJECTED

Council to Re-advertise for Sealed Lease Estimates

Highest Offer of $2875 Made by Andrew Pansini

Tangle of Motions Results in Clearing Boards

The City Council voted yesterday to reject all the bids submitted for the leasing of the old City Hall site as a parking station and to re-advertise for sealed bids with no provision for raising bids after the opening of the sealed bids. Such a provision had been included in the notice calling for the bids which were rejected yesterday, and the highest oral bid which resulted was considerably in excess of the largest sealed bid.

Before coming to an agreement on the matter yesterday, the Council became entangled in a maze of motions, substitute motions, points of order and motions to reconsider. And many of the bills introduced were taken on these motions while achieving the dignity of recognition by the chair before the Council found itself clear of the maze. During the course of the voting, the Council actually rejected one of the bids which had been submitted, but a moment later it nullified that action by adopting a motion of reconsideration.

HIGHEST BID $2875

The groundwork for yesterday's complications was laid in the meeting of the Finance Committee Monday when the three members of the committee each decided on a different recommendation on the matter of the lease.

Councilman Alber wished the acceptance of the highest bid, that of Andrew Pansini for $2875, and he made a motion to that effect yesterday. Councilman Randolph wished the acceptance of the bid of S. M. Lazarus, who operates the Million Dollar Theater, for $3730 with a stipulation that the maximum parking charge should be 25 cents for eight hours, and he moved such a motion yesterday. Councilman Hall wished the city to operate the parking station with a maximum charge of 15 cents and he moved yesterday that such a proportion be made on the basis of hours.

It was the bid of Mr. Lazarus which won a momentary triumph yesterday, but the offer of Mr. Pansini, who was present, to include a similar stipulation for a maximum parking charge in his higher bid, was accepted. The motion to reconsider and the quick turn-about by the Council.

METHOD UNFAIR

Then it was pointed out that this action was unfair to all the other bidders because in effect it continued the auction for the lease at a time when the others weren't present to raise their bids. Accordingly, the motion was accepted.

The playground, in which the children appeared clad as birds, was entitled "Bird with the Broken Wing" records, emulating some of the best known songs, were played on a phonograph during the performance.

Two other playgrounds also had celebrations at Verdugo Playground a playlet, "The Bird's House Hunting," was presented. At Slauson Playground the planting of a large tree was the feature of the program.

TRIAL COST OF SHULER'S FIXED

Cryer, City Prosecutor, Nix, declined to state whether he will issue the complaint, and when, it is understood that it cannot be issued until Monday, since the Mayor who has not yet signed it, is out of the city and will not return until then.

Informed that Shuler was expected to depart last night or this morning for Arizona, to be gone about two weeks, Nix indicated that if no complaint is filed, no effort will be made to serve it until he returns to Los Angeles.

Major Cryer is seeking a complaint in connection with an article in the current issue of Shuler's magazine, entitled "Out with the Flounders," which he declares is libelous him.

AUTO SHOW FIRE
LAID TO WIRING

Short Circuit Blamed for $125,000 Blaze

Fire Reports Said Woman Took Cigarette

Commission Would Prohibit Exhibits in Tents

A short circuit in wiring carrying current to a light above an exhibit booth and not a cigarette
was at first suspected, started the conflagration which Tuesday afternoon swept through the Los Angeles
Automobile Show at Washington and Hill streets, destroying property valued at $125,000. It was announced yesterday by Investigators of the Fire Department and the commissioner of the investigation bureau.

The theory of the circuit was that of a minute search throughout the entire show grounds.

The investigation is still under way.

The heads of the Graham-Paige
Company, Joseph, Robert and Ray Graham, vice-president of the company, said that no department
of the city should grant permits for any industrial nature or
other kind under tents, which can
be blamed as the chief reason for
the fire.

Commissioners of Fire Chief
and Fire Marshal, the Fire
Chief, had no blame for it
as ground that the company
should grant no permit for
any industrial nature or
other kind under tents, which can
be blamed as the chief reason for
the fire.

Second dispatch arrived, reading that the fire, containing a number of exhibits, had been retained by it in
and the permit for the one
had been obtained from the City Council.

Wardin stressed the need for a proper inspection of buildings
and similar affairs could be done.

SPIRIT LAUDED

A wire received from R. S. Cole, vice-president of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation, reads: "Exceedingly sorry automobile show was designed for the benefit of the public and great sympathy to be shown on your part in having this to open new show Wednesday night."

Another from E. M. Lubeck, western sales manager of Oakland Motor Car Company, Pontiac, Mich.,
reads: "Great to learn of disinter-est of automobile show. The entire Oakland Motor Car Company organization congratulates you on the enterprise and ability to start new show and with you greatest possible
success."

Setting a new record in speed of arranging such an affair, the new exposition was in readiness to receive the throngs at the Shrine Building, Jefferson and Royal streets, just twenty-four hours after the affair. The new and all vehicles presented against a gorgeous background duplicate those of the show, 70,700 square feet of exhibition space being available.

MUSIC AND COLOR

Just as in the initial affair, the committee is presenting a novel
program of entertainment, the same bands rendering popular and semi-classical music, and a delegation of singers and the female quartet from the Mission Play singing on all three floors, garbed in their colorful costumes.

That the Southern California
public is interested in the efforts of the association to give a spectacular exposition is evident in the size of the crowds that have passed through the turnstiles since we reopened," said Chairman Moreland. "A large share of the credit for the second show is due to the audience director, Otto, who has helped immeasurably in the Auto Club of Southern California, the fire and police departments, Percy G. Allen, who installed the decorations and the electrical equipment."

Two Policemen
Accused of Auto
Show Fire Theft

Accused of taking articles from the ruins of the Automobile Show
at Washington and Hill streets, Motorcycle Policeman M. J. Pfefferhoff and Policeman R. G. Norton were suspended yesterday by Capt. Hubb of the Georgia-street Station. According to reports made by Sgta.
Horn, both of whom were on duty
when the show was held, the police took from the show ruins a $60 outboard motor and $10 worth of brake lining. The accused men explained in defense that they had been told by an insurance adjuster that the articles were worthless and that they could have them.

Lieut. Stevens, acting head of the personnel department, gave the accused policemen until noon today
in which to produce the adjuster
they quoted.

Court Awards
Steamship Fare

Dr. Michael M. Tevis, dentist,

was given a judgment of $161.50 at the end of the trial of his suit for $50,700 damages against Thomas

Cook & Son, travel bureau, by Superior Judge Wilson, who heard the evidence.

Dr. Tevis asserted that he contracted with the travel bureau in 1927 to care for him while on a trip

from Los Angeles to Paris. He continued he was to be furnished

all accommodations, information
relative to routes and trains and supplies needed on the tour.

He claimed the bureau failed to carry out the contract and that he was compelled to return home on a vessel different from the one provided in the tour service.

On his contract he denied it had broken.

The court, however, allowed Dr.
Tevis judgment for the amount of the return steamship fare.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and

Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not; behold, your

Sure thing. One may be alone and still in excellent society.

NOT TOO SORE
Somebody voices the suspicion that these women in the Soroptimist organization are nothing but pessimists. They ask what is a sore optimist but one who has had an operation and is always talking about it? That makes a sore optimist
a pessimist.

EASILY PARTED
Now it seems that a woman gets a divorce because the husband gets grouchy over his golf game. That makes this divorce business rather easy. Next thing we know courts will be breaking up the home because the husband can't remember the wife's bridge signals.
What's the use in getting married anyhow?

SUCH A BUSINESS
During February the ships of thirteen different nations visited our well-known harbor. Incidentally, they handled 2,000,000 tons of merchandise valued at nearly $28,000,000. It was a short month but by no means a dull one
—in fact, they never do have any dull months at the port any more. It is a pile-up story, with each mark a bit
lighter than the last.

AMERICAN INDUSTRY
The man with the slate and pencil
shows that the products of American industries last year were of a value of more than $63,000,000,000. This is what would be called our factory output and the array is bewildering in volume and versatility. A generation ago we could not even have contemplated such a stupendous total. One glance at the figures and we would have been ripe for the madhouse.

I HE CAN OPENER
You might not have thought about it but it is, nevertheless, a fact that the netters at our water gates have picked up as many as 3000 tons of sardines in a single day. Now the sardine is a silly little fish and a couple of them look like scant nourishment for a hungry man,
but 3000 tons of them—why that means a trainload. And it must be remembered that it is only recently our fishermen concerned themselves with these small fish. The canneries were built for tuna and other more ponderous denizens of the deep. Sardines were rather thought to be piffing. Never can tell.

THE BIG PARADE
These different movie mergers arrange for all forms of production from
the round-up of budding authors to the distribution of the films. There are all kinds of research work and all forms of
laboratory labor. They have marketing
and sales organizations of all conceivable
types. They have miles upon miles
of beautiful playhouses in which to show
their wares. But they must still coax
John J. Consumer into the door. They must have his dollar before the cycle is complete. There is no fun in just watching the show in their own projection
rooms. They must still go into the world and share the business.

N BIG BUSINESS
The death of Haley Flack the other day emphasized the suddenness with which big business took possession of the American field. Flack was at the head of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for a matter of thirty years or more. When he took hold the company had assets of something like $12,000,000.
When he died he turned over holdings
aggregating more than $2,100,000 and the company is but one of half a dozen in the billion dollar class. It took the American people a long time to learn that life insurance was an investment in which one did not have to die to win.
When they did find out all about it they went to it with a zeal and intelligence
that assures the prosperity of the nation for this generation and the next.
Men who used to hand most of their pay
to the bartender now know a surprising lot about banking and investments. This also can be blamed upon prohibition.

CLEARED FOR ACTION

The ratification by Utah of the six-State Colorado River compact, made effective Wednesday by adoption by the Utah Senate and the signature of Gov.
Dern, clears the way for action toward
the actual erection of Boulder Dam.
Arizona now has her choice between ratification of the seven-State pact, with or without an agreement with California and Nevada, and a legal attack upon the whole project before the United States Supreme Court. While there is still some hope for a three-State compact,
the slight progress made at Santa Fe
and the apparently great chasm between Arizona's demands and what is possible for California to concede make the lawsuit the most probable alternative.

Arizona can, of course, do nothing, let affairs take their course and accept what is given her by the six-State pact and the Boulder Dam bill, but the bitter-enders undoubtedly will insist upon action. They seem to be confident of victory in the courts; and so long as they feel that way about it, it is best for all concerned that the suit be filed and pressed to determination as swiftly as possible.

This need entail no great delay. Presumably such a suit would be of the kind in which the Supreme Court of the United States has original jurisdiction,
and so would not have to trawl through
a series of lower courts before final action could be taken upon it. There are several somewhat complicated legal points involved, one of which involves Arizona's repeal, in 1927, of the portions of her constitution giving the Federal government control of dam sites within her borders, another the inherent right of the Federal government to control international streams.

Whether the repeal of these constitutional sections is effective has not been determined by any court. It was accomplished at the instance of former Gov.
Hunt by vote of the people of the State.
But these provisions are believed part of the contract by which Arizona became a State, which may not be set aside without the consent of Congress, and Congress
has not given any such consent.

To the completeness of Federal control of any navigable stream, in so far
as that control relates to navigation,
there can hardly be a question. How Congress may go in disposing of a stream otherwise is not known. The various reclamation acts have been passed on the assumption that Congress has such a power of disposal, and no State
has challenged them for obvious reasons.
It is, of course, conceivable, but scarcely likely that the Supreme Court might not consider that Congress down to a navigation

right.

It is even conceivable that Arizona
might succeed in toppling over the whole reclamation and flood-control work of the Federal government—an action
which would prove a boomerang indeed
to a State which can only be developed by irrigation, which has already accepted
the benefits of such reclamation projects
as those of the Salt River Valley and is hoping for more.

Yet to attack in the courts Federal work upon the Colorado means a collateral attack upon irrigation and flood control generally. Arizona might do well to think this over before commencing action.

The plain fact is that Arizona has as much to gain as any State, proportionately,
from Colorado River development,
and that many Arizonans are aware of the fact. An editorial in the Tucson
Daily Citizen says on this point:

It is difficult to form an adequate estimate of the tremendous loss our State will suffer for every year in which we fail to put to work on our farms and in our mines the water power of the Colorado, creating untold wealth in new property and its products and affording employment
to thousands of new citizens.

Let us make some reasonable compromise of existing differences and ratify this beneficial enterprise thus permitting work on the dam to be begun.

What if we have not gained all we sought? The water wealth allotted to us means a development so vast that one can hardly picture it. Under the proposed apportionment we shall have more water and water power than can be used in a general sense. Let us hasten by prompt ratification this beneficial enterprise
and stem the frightful wastes now occurring. If there is any further delay while we bargain for a larger share, the loss to Arizona in retarded development will be infinitely greater than we can hope to gain by the present procedure. It is time to duplicate the Dáwes performance.

RESUME OF SIMPLICITY

It isn't true that everything is being motorized. In the face of the general trend toward motorization
there is an astonishing increase in the output of pushcarts.

On Los Angeles street, where sidewalk displays as well as window displays still are permitted, the entire

with the literature and history of England and America. Its original paintings and ancient manuscripts are priceless and irreplaceable.

To scholars and all ambitious for self
and general culture the opportunities for betterment presented by such a public gift as that of Henry E. Huntington are incalculable. Not only that, but they are being eagerly sought by the youth of our own State, by visitors from other States and by scholars from all over the world. In the first eleven months after its opening over 120,000 people were admitted to this storehouse of scholarship
and information and all bear testimony
to the benefit they derived.

When an institution is devoted to the service of the public and to the advancement of learning and is adding so much to the cultural development of California, the State can well afford to co-operate with it to the extent of exempting it from taxation. In no better way, in fact, can the State prove that it has the welfare of the people at heart.

SCHOOLMAAMS MAY MARRY

Good news for schoolmistresses who wish to marry and yet keep their jobs is seen in the decision of Superior Judge Lamberson of Riverside in the case of a young woman teacher of that city who had been discharged soon after her marriage to a local architect. The lady had sued the school board for reinstatement
as a teacher and for back salary from the date of her dismissal in 1927, the end of the 1927 school year, and the court
decided in her favor.

The decision will be considered one of State-wide importance, as it indicates,
if it does not settle, the legality of the position of a schoolmistress who protests against arbitrary dismissal on the sole ground that she has committed matrimony. It is not a new question—
few women teachers have had the temerity
to test their standing in this respect in the courts.

On the whole, it would seem that the Riverside teacher was safely within her moral as well as legal rights when she thought to continue teaching after her marriage. She made no secret of her entering the marital state, as has been done by many a woman who sought to hide a natural and commendable act in order to hold her job. Such secret weddings are clearly in variance with the best requirements of the social order.

The argument that in maintaining her pedagogical position, though married to a man fully able to support her and give her a good home, a woman is keeping out of it a worthy woman who must earn money to support herself
would hardly seem to apply in an age
when so many married women are employed in public offices and in private business houses. This point has been urged by school boards here and there,
but the general opinion seems to be that it is not a valid one, and Judge Lam-berson's decision strikes a hard blow at the pedagogical position.

WHY TAX A PUBLIC GIFT?

The proposal to exempt from State
taxation the Huntington Library and Art GALLERY will receive the unanimous in-endorsement of all who approve the generosity of private citizens in devoting the proceeds of their life work to institutions designed for promoting the education and enlightenment of the whole people. This proposal will be placed on the ballot at the 1930 general election, the Senate having already concluded in a measure to this effect and its adoption by the Assembly being practically assured. There should be no doubt as to the verdict of the voters.

THE BIG PARADE

These different movie mergers ar-
range for all forms of production from
the round-up of budding authors to the distribution of the films. There are all kinds of research work and all forms of
laboratory labor. They have marketing
and sales organizations of all conceivable
types. They have miles upon miles
of beautiful playhouses in which to show
their wares. But they must still coax
John J. Consumer into the door. They
must have his dollar before the cycle is
complete. There is no fun in just
watching the show in their own projection
rooms. They must still go into the world and share the business.

Some Other Law Breakers

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It has come to the news that newspaper readers habitually look for the Monday morning casualty list of auto victims. It is a frightful spectacle when the list is read.

There is too often a tendency:

in Europe to oppose Washington

and Monroe; that is a mistake

and not according to facts.

(Having only the French version

before me, I cannot give the

quotation exactly.)

The French writer takes exception to this statement and denies its truth. For, he says,

the two men proposed each other

high honor in Paris when Monroe

was Ambassador, from 1794 to 1796.

"And—it must be said,

because it is true—all the American ambassadors who represented the great starry republic

in France and who tried to enlarge their influence indecently in American affairs.

He then relates that Monroe

came to Paris in 1794, having already followed several callings,

notably those of carpenter,

colonel and lawyer. He presented his credentials to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and

nothing doing, he wrote to the president of the National Convention asking to be received by the Assembly. The Convention granted the request at once.

And then occurred an inexpressible scene: Monroe

made a solemn entry into the Convention, kissed the president and made a grand declaration as to what Franco-American relations should be. "Imagine Mr.

New Cars and Salvaged Exhibits Draw Throng to Shrine Automobile Show

FIRE CONSUMES RELICS

More than twice the distance to the moon without mishap, only to be destroyed in the fire which raged at the Los Angeles Auto Show to the ground Tuesday.

Such was the history of the 1907 Model 30 Packard roadster, which was driven more than 50,000 miles by its owner before being put on display in the Eddie C. Anthony exhibit at the show.

Originally purchased on November 12, 1907, in San Francisco, the Model 30 was one of two cars of its type to be sent to the Pacific

the Ford Company for showing films of the Ford plant.

When the fire broke out, Dean grabbed his "cine" (amateur) camera—a motion-picture camera about the size of an oven—knew—and took it out of the non-dollar holocaust.

The next evening Dean's film, projected and printed, was being projected at the Shrine show.

GEARS DRAW COMMENT

British automotive journals, commenting on the Graham-Paige four-speed transmission, which they call a "twin-top gear box," predict a growth of popularity for the improved transmission in the United States. The majority of British cars are equipped with four-speed transmissions.

EIGHTS POPULAR

The number of straight eights at the show indicates that the demand for the eight-cylinder cars is increasing. Graham-Paige this year introduced a new straight eight, the 877, as an addition to its line.

CURIOSITY AROUSED AT SHOW

Broken Glass and Chassis Taken from Flames Hold Interest at Shrine

The curious as found at the Shrine Auditorium, where the second edition of the sixteenth annual Automobile Show is being held is represented in at least two of the exhibits. One is a Ford windshield cracked by a sea gull and the other a rehabilitated Cadillac chassis taken from the ruins of the fire.

The Ford windshield is of non-shatterable glass. A Los Angeles man, while driving a sea gull. The bird stopped when he hit the glass. The results are shown at the Ford booth.

As for the chassis, this exhibit, originally intended for the show in the tents, is largely of chromium-plated parts. Charred and apparently gone out of useful existence, this chassis was taken from the fire embers Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., mounted, rewelded and readied to be ready for the show opening again. It does not show effects of having been through the fire.

Grant of Chevrolet Places Auto in Fourth Place Among American Necessities

R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, holds that every citizen of this country who is old enough and can pay the price without sacrificing the primary necessities of life should own an automobile. His views are contained in the following paragraphs.

Every adult member of American society who can finance an automobile should have one. The reason for this is that with an automobile an individual can transport himself more quickly and, consequently, within a given day's time, more people do more work, and be more effective in his living. This is a fundamental matter in economics.

There are in the world three great necessities that must be provided if the human race is to exist. These great necessities are food, clothing and transportation. After a man provides himself with these three great necessities he then has a curiosity as to where he should go and how he should get there. To put it in other words, transportation becomes an inherent necessity as soon as man begins to move about.

It so happens that the progress of mankind depends more on transportation, which is not in the strict sense a necessity, than it does on the three great actual necessities of life. The whole history of the progress of the world proves this.

Mankind was retarded in his material progress for many years from a lack of transportation facilities. The great and outstanding material progress of the world has taken place in the last two centuries. Transportation has been made efficient. The introduction of the steam railroad, the building of bridges, the introduction of rapid communication in the form of the telegraph and the telephone, the development of rapid transit in congested areas, the introduction of

During the month just closed—the shortest in the year—10,200 Oldsmobiles were manufactured. Figures received here by the Los Angeles branch of the Olds Motor Works reveal that.

A further increase of more than 40 per cent over this record February production is scheduled for March, factory officials announced. During the present month approximately 18,000 Oldsmobiles will be produced to fill domestic and export requirements.

Four Library Branches Will Be Built Soon

The building program of the library commissioners now includes four branch library buildings in prospect, according to the announcement of Orra E. Monnette, president of the board. With the contract let for the Sidwell branch at 130 South Broadway and the Felipe de Neve branch at Lafayette Park, a new site purchased for Venice, and the contract let for the Henry David Thoreau branch, the system will consist of forty-eight branches.

R. A. Miller was awarded the portable bungalow contract for the Henry David Thoreau branch at 2715. This will be built on the library lot on Hobart Boulevard near Santa Barbara avenue and will be ready for occupancy in about two months.

A lot for the new Venice library has been purchased at the corner of California and Electric avenues and Architects Witmer and Watson have been selected to draw up plans and specifications.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Stretching Toes

Question: Pat asks: "Will you tell me how I can straighten my feet? The great toe on each foot has grown toward the other toes until the large joint now protrudes in a great bump. I thought of putting a nonflexible rod inside my shoe and bending large toes with rod, but wanted to ask your advice first. Would this do more harm than good?"

Answer: Most chiropractors will be able to fit you with a brace similar to the one you describe. You can wear these braces at night, and if you wear sensible shoes there is a chance for you to return your large toes to their natural shape.

Shampoo

Q: Mrs. B. asks: "Would egg be a good shampoo?"

A: There is nothing harmful about the use of eggs as a material for shampoo and many people claim that such a shampoo keeps the hair in excellent condition.

Iodine

Q: G. M. asks: "Is it all right to use iodized salt in our food?"

A: It is unsafe to use iodine in any form except through a physician's advice.

Water on Knees

Q: R. K. L. writes: "My mother is 45 years of age and she has been swimming in cold water for 20 years. The joints in her knees are swollen and she says if so, what is this the indication of?"

A: It is very serious. She says it does not bother her at all."

A: Of course, I cannot diagnose your mother's case through this column, but it is more than likely that she is developing some form of arthritis, one type of which is not painful.

A resolution commanding the bill introduced in the State Assembly providing for the acquisition by Los Angeles of all tidelands and submerged lands of the State within the boundaries of the city, and urging Representative Stockwell to press its adoption, was passed by the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday on recommendation of Sup't Hjelte.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, an act has been introduced in the Assembly of the Legislature of the State of California, designated as Senate Bill No. 373, entitled "An Act granting to the city of Los Angeles the tidelands and submerged lands of the State within the boundaries of the said city;

"Whereas, the public interest, convenience and necessity of the people of the city of Los Angeles require the granting to said city said lands, reserving, however, in the people of the State of California, the right to fish in said waters, with the right of convenient access to the said waters over the said lands for said purpose, and,

"Whereas, the passage of Assembly Bill No. 373 is consistent with numerous previous bills involving the granting of tide and submerged lands to various municipalities situated along the Pacific in the State of California; now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners request the Hon. James E. Stockwell to urgently press the adoption of Assembly Bill No. 373 on behalf of the citizens of Los Angeles."

Robbed of $650;
Home Plundered

Burglars obtained $650 in cash from an office safe in the Golden Gate Theater at Atlantic and Whittier boulevards some time Wednesday night, according to a report filed at the Sheriff's office yesterday.

The loss was discovered yesterday morning by Richard Van Pelt, janitor. The burglars had gained entrance to the office by boring holes near the lock and manipulating the catch. The safe door had been pried from its fastenings by some means, it was stated, according to Deputy Sheriffs Jensen and Ussell, who investigated.

Diamonds, clothing and other valuables were taken from the home of Charles Lotterman of 1313 Rambo Drive, while Mrs. and Miss Lottner man were absent for a few hours. It was also stated. Entrance was gained by tearing a screen from a window and forcing the lock on a French door. The plunder was valued at $700.

WILL SHE FIND TRAIL

PROPOSED
LAW ASKED*Yankwich at City Club
Speaks Against Pending
Judicial Act Amendment

Opposition to the proposed Commonwealth Club plan of selecting judges (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 3) was voiced at the City Club yesterday by Superior Judge Yankwich who declared that the people's adoption of the amendment would "create a judicial oligarchy by perpetuating incumbents in office."

If the proposed measure should carry it would mean a return to personal politics in judicial selections," said Judge Yankwich. "To defeat an amendment we will have to make a personal campaign and accuse him of specific acts of misconduct of a character which would render him liable to impeachment, and whispering campaigns" would become the order of the day," he said.

"It rests too much upon an undue fear for the future of our judiciary. I am afraid that the quality of the judiciary has deteriorated in recent years. We are too much inclined to attribute it to political influences. As a matter of fact, deterioration is somewhat evident among men in various walks of life. We live in a mechanistic and mercantile age. Today we educate our youth in the art of money-making and sometimes even the general Neanderthal becomes a typical Neanderthal and boozier."

The proposed measure proceeds from the distrust of the people and tends to increase that anti-democratic spirit which has its origin in the "World War," continued the speaker.

"I estimate an erroneous conception of the judicial process and could have originated only in the minds of persons who conceive of the judge as an automaton, grinding out judgments as from a coffee mill, from a machine-like law of facts. It would place the judge in an ivory tower above the multitude. In the last analysis, judges are legislators, and because their legislative might is limited, they legislate, and because their political influence might be slight, they denounce it. This would be adopted, this plan, which, by denying them their fruitful contact with the changing social back-ground out of which controversies arise, would prevent them from being responsive to the changing and ever-growing spirit of the times."

Mrs. Scheets' charge was responsible for the hoax. Since she learned the truth, twenty years ago, she has been hunting her parent.

The search led to the home of Henry H. Fray, 111 East Seventh Street, where it was found he had separated from the woman in 1904 and was divorced in 1909. Undismayed by her failure yesterday to obtain a single clew to the whereabouts of the mother she has been trying to find for twenty years, Mrs. Leota Scheets, who came here from Portland yesterday, will call for local police assistance, declared her intention last night of remaining in Los Angeles indefinitely. Despite detective's advice that she return to her home in Oregon and await word from them, she decided to stay in the belief she may still pick up the trail.

The mother she seeks is Mrs. Anna Fray, from whom she was separated in Galena, Kan., when Mrs. Scheets was only 2 years of age. A mysterious robber who entered the home of Mrs. L. Goodman, 249 Ocean Avenue, Vunes, yesterday and stripped diamond rings, valued at $1000 from her finger is being sought by Deputy Sheriff's Hall and Large of the Norwalk station.

According to Mrs. Goodman, the man knocked at the front door and, believing he was her husband, the man knocked on the door. The man removed her rings, Mrs. Goodman said.

Mrs. Frances G. Stanches, a neighbor, heard Mrs. L. Goodman's screams came to her assistance, but the man was gone and Mrs. Goodman was lying on the floor in a faint, the report states.

Some of the evils that beset courts of justice in Los Angeles and some remedial measures were outlined to members of the Justinian Club yesterday at luncheon by Presiding Judge Turney of the Municipal Court.

"Shyster" lawyers, "fixers," "cappers" and professional ball bondsmen came in for a good share of the judge's remarks on necessary reforms. His plea was for a "square deal" for the courts as well as for people brought into court.

The judge's speech has been made along the road to reform, he said, but much more work must be done. He noted that one beneficial result of the Keyes tragedy is an apparent awakening of the public to the need of better protection of the administration of justice.

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

The annual picnic of the Oakland (Michigan) Society will be held Sunday at Sylvan Grove, 10 miles west of town, by the 100 members in the society.

Birds, picnics, games and contests are planned.

FIXING" FLAGRANT

The extent of "fixing" that has been going on was illustrated, he said, by the fact that in one year one attorney had obtained the dismissal of 165 cases against clients.

"And it cannot hardly be said that he did this in the line of duty to his extraordinary ability as a practicing lawyer," said Judge Turney.

As to the professional ball bondsmen, he said that this type of parasite came into prominence last year, and that the bondsmen ordinarily was a friend or neighbor who had faith that the defendant would appear for trial at the appointed time, and was willing to pledge his cash or property to him. There was no intent of making money on his faith. Today the professional ball bondsmen are interested only in making the 10 per cent of the bail put up. They even go to the extent of virtually practicing law, Judge Turney said.

In addition to the bail, he said, the bondsmen get a percentage of the fine and are ready to pay at all times," said Judge Turney. "I think they should be jailed instead of fined."

Judge Turney said that it will be very interesting to observe the developments if everyone will join, as requested, in an honest attempt to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, which has been urged. And the effect of making money on a night court; and said steps are being taken to inaugurate such a court in Los Angeles.

Bridegroom's Two Suicides Attempts Fail

Two attempts by Sherman, 28 years of age, of 1917 Sherman Avenue, to end his life frustrated yesterday. On Alameda street, he found himself with gas from the kitchen manometer of Engine No. 4, which he had strapped himself to. He was able to get away from the Georgia street fire station, where he was a prisoner. He was so bad that he was strapped down and left alone in the entire neighborhood. A policeman who was not watching freed him and was forced to return himself with a gun.

Wife No. 2 Wants Annulment—Not Her Money

Clara Schag Hunter, 21, appeared before Superior Judge Keetch seeking an annulment of her marriage with Edward A. Hunter, 26, of 1870 Alameda street, shortly after her marriage last month.

In her testimony Mrs. Hunter asserted that following her marriage to Hunter on February 22, she discovered Hunter had a wife, Mrs. Anna E. Kasten, whom he obtained the $1575 he used to purchase an automobile and expenses on a trip to Alameda. She left him, never saw him again, however, she Hunter lives in Los Angeles.

Judge Baird denied her request, but said he would make an order relative to the $1575 he advised Mrs. Hunter to bring action to recover her money.

Problem Child to be Subject of Conference

Miss Briggs, under the name of Bruce, is going to work for William Beaudine and Sam W. Cohen. A few weeks ago she arrived here from the San Joaquin district on Los Angeles street between Rowena and Commercial streets. Later they moved to First and Main street. She was married to Mr. Kuhrt in 1925.

BOMB WRECKED

Yesterday night a bomb was thrown on an automobile onto the porch of the home of Leo Honek, a paving contractor, at 415 North Sixth street, but a few hours later he was found dead in the house, partially buried in the earth. No one was in the house at the time of his death.

It is believed that the bomb was thrown into the front door of the house, and the bomb exploded.

The youth, 17, was found lying on the floor of the room under some pretext and then helping herself to any article of value that she could find.

According to the prosecution, Mrs. Van Rossum, 37 years of age, was sentenced to San Quentin prison yesterday by Superior Judge Murray on eight counts of burglary after her application for probation was denied. The term of imprisonment will be 10 to 20 years with the exact time to be served left to the discretion of the State Prison Board.

Mrs. Van Rossum was accused of burglarizing numerous Los Angeles homes through breaking and entering access to dressing rooms under some pretext and then helping herself to any article of value that she could find.

According to the prosecution, Mrs. Van Rossum has been convicted of felony charges on two previous occasions and an effort will be made to establish this fact before the State Prison Board, which would permit her to serve a minimum of fifteen years under the Habitual Criminal Act.
